- 9.02 The Union may institute a grievance consisting of an allegation of a general misinterpretation or a violation by the Company of this Agreement in writing at Step No. 3 of the grievance procedure providing that it is presented within five (5) working days after the circumstances giving rise to the grievance originated or occurred and provided that it is a matter in regard to which an individual employee could not grieve. Such grievance shall be signed by a Union Representative.

ARTICLE 10 GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

- 10.01 The parties of this Agreement are agreed that it is of the utmost importance to adjust complaints and grievances as quickly as possible and at the lowest possible step. The Company will not impose discipline if more than five (5) working days have elapsed from the time the Company is made aware of the incident giving rise to the discipline or notifying the Union and, where appropriate, the employee, of pending discipline subject to an investigation. Should there be no Steward available to attend the discipline meeting, the Company will give the Union notice of the impending discipline as soon as possible.
- 10.02 No complaint or grievance shall be considered unless it relates to the interpretation, application, administration or alleged violation of this Agreement or after more than five (5) working days from the time the circumstances giving rise to it ought reasonably have come to the attention of the Union or Company.
- 10.03 Complaints and Grievances shall be adjusted and settled as follows:

Step No. 1

The aggrieved employee shall present her complaint verbally to her Supervisor in a meeting specifically intended for this purpose. She shall have the presence of a Steward if she so desires. If a settlement satisfactory to the employee concerned is not reached within five (5) working days, the complaint may be carried forward to Step No. 2 of the Grievance Procedure at any time within five (5) working days thereafter as per Article 10.02.

The parties agree that any settlement reached at this stage of the Grievance Procedure shall be without admission of liability on the part of any party and shall apply only to the case at hand. It is further understood and agreed that any settlement reached at this stage of the Grievance Procedure will not set any precedent and will not be referred to or in any way relied upon by either party in any future cases.

Step No. 2

The aggrieved employee who may be accompanied by the Chief Steward or his/her designate may present the grievance in written form to the Department Manager who shall arrange a meeting with the said employee within five (5) working days from the receipt of the grievance at Step No. 2. The Department Manager or his designate will render his decision in writing within five (5) working days following the presentation of the grievance to him. If a settlement satisfactory to the employee is not reached the grievance may be carried forward to Step No. 3 at any time within five (5) working days after the rendering of the Department Manager's decision.

Step No. 3

The aggrieved employee may submit her grievance in writing to the Plant Manager, or his designate who shall arrange a meeting with the said employee within five (5) working days from the receipt of the grievance at Step No. 3. At this meeting the aggrieved employee may be accompanied by the Grievance Committee and a full-time representative of the Union.

- 10.04 If final settlement of the grievance is not completed within five (5) working days of the meeting referred to at Step No. 3 the grievance may be referred by either party to a mutually agreed to sole arbitrator as provided in Article 12, at any time within thirty (30) days thereafter, but no later.
- 10.05 For the purposes of this article, working days shall mean Monday through Friday excluding Paid Holidays.
- 10.06 Failure by the Union to observe its time limits will constitute withdrawal of the grievance, while failure of the Company to observe its time limits will result in the granting of said grievance, on a without prejudice basis.
- 10.07 Group Complaint or Grievance - Where a complaint or grievance affects more than one employee with substantially the same interest they may present the same complaint or grievance and it shall be processed in the same manner as an individual complaint or grievance.
- 10.08 Any timelines set out in this article may be extended by mutual written agreement of the parties.

ARTICLE 11 DISCIPLINE CASES

- 11.01 Where a record of verbal warning or a written warning is placed in the employee's file, the employee will be given two (2) copies with the explanation that one (1) copy is to go to the Union if the employee so desires. The Company will give the Union a copy of any suspension or discharge notice as soon as possible after it has been given to the employee.

Upon receipt of said copies the employee must sign the original copy on their file to indicate that they did in fact receive the copies but not to admit guilt or to agree with the action taken by the Company. Any unjust action may be the subject of a grievance in the case of an employee who has attained seniority.

When the Company advises a seniority employee of a suspension or discharge, a Union Steward shall be present at the meeting. The absence of a Steward, because of unavailability, shall not prevent the Company from suspending an employee pending investigation. When an employee is suspended pending investigation, the Company will make all reasonable efforts to complete its investigation within five (5) working days, or as soon as possible.

- 11.02 In the event of an employee, who has attained seniority, being suspended or discharged from employment and the employee feeling that an injustice has been done, the case may be taken up as a grievance commencing at Step 2 or the grievance procedure.

The employment of a probationary employee may be terminated at the discretion of the Company provided it is not contrary to the Ontario Human Rights Code and such termination shall not be subjected to the Grievance Procedure.

- 11.03 A claim by an employee who has attained seniority, that she has been unjustly suspended or discharged from her employment shall be treated as a grievance if a written statement of such grievance signed by the employee or a union representative, is lodged with the Factory Manager or his designate within five (5) working days after the employee is notified of her discharge or suspension. All preliminary steps of the Grievance Procedure prior to Step No. 2 will be omitted in such case.
- 11.04 Such special grievance may be settled by confirming the Company's action in dismissing or suspending the employee, or by reinstating the employee in her former position with full compensation for time lost, or by any other arrangement which is just and equitable in the opinion of the conferring parties or of the mutually agreed to sole arbitrator, as the case may be.
- 11.05 All disciplinary records of an employee shall be removed from an employee file if she established a clear record for twelve (12) calendar months.

ARTICLE 12 ARBITRATION

- 12.01 Both parties to this Agreement agree that any dispute or grievance concerning the interpretation, application, administration or alleged violation of this Agreement, which has been properly carried through all the steps of the Grievances Procedure outlined in Article 10 above and which has not been settled, will be referred to a Sole Arbitrator at the request of either of the parties hereto.
- 12.02 The party submitting the grievance to arbitration shall advise as to three (3) alternative choices as to a sole arbitrator. The recipient of the notice shall, in reply, agree to one of the proposed arbitrators or advise as to its three (3) alternative choices as to a sole arbitrator. If the parties can agree to a sole arbitrator within twenty (20) days of the notice referring the matter to arbitration, the matter shall be determined by a sole arbitrator and failing such agreement the regular arbitration procedure shall apply.
- 12.03 The decisions of the Sole Arbitrator shall be final and binding on both parties.
- 12.04 The Sole Arbitrator shall not have any power to alter or change any of the provisions of this Agreement or to substitute any new provisions for any existing provisions, nor to give any decision inconsistent with the terms and provisions of this Agreement.
- The parties will jointly bear the expense of the Arbitrator.
- 12.05 Before any grievance proceeds to arbitration, the parties may, by mutual consent, enlist the services of a mediator who shall meet with the parties to endeavour to resolve the grievances. The time lines outlined in Arbitration Procedure shall be suspended until such time as the mediation process has failed.

ARTICLE 13 SENIORITY

13.01 An employee will be considered probationary for the first nine hundred and sixty (960) hours worked and will have no seniority rights during that period. After completion of probation, her seniority shall date back to date of hire upon completion of her probationary period.

13.02 There shall be separate seniority lists for full-time and part-time employees.

(a) A revised copy of the seniority lists shall be posted on the appropriate bulletin board and copies sent to the Union office in January and July of each year. The lists shall indicate part-time and full-time employees at the time of preparation in descending order of seniority. If the accuracy of the lists is not challenged within thirty (30) calendar days of posting, the lists shall be deemed to be correct.

(b) For part-time employees, days credited for full-time seniority prior to November 1, 2016 will be recorded as days of full-time seniority and will be identified on the part-time seniority list. Effective November 1, 2016, all hours worked will be accumulated and identified on the part-time seniority list.

These combined days and hours will be considered as part-time seniority for the purposes of applying to job postings.

In the event a part-time employee successfully posts to a full-time position and transfers to the full-time seniority list, these combined days and hours will be used to determine full-time seniority date. The parties agree that 1,800 hours worked will be equal to one year of full-time seniority.

13.03 Full-time seniority shall accumulate only while the employee holds a full-time posted position, except as provided under 13.02 (b).

In the event that an employee transfers from the full-time to the part-time seniority list, without interruption as in Article 13.06, a record will be kept in her personnel file of her full-time seniority (years/months/days) at the time of transfer. Should she subsequently return to a full-time position, she will be credited with the full-time seniority which was previously accumulated, in addition to the accumulated part-time hours as outlined in Article 13.02 (b).

It is understood that full-time employees who elect part-time work as per Article 14.06 shall accumulate full-time seniority for a period up to their pre-existing full-time seniority or twelve (12) months, whichever is less. Thereafter, part-time seniority will be accumulated as outlined in Article 13.02 (b).

13.04 In the event that an employee transfers from the part-time seniority list to the full-time seniority list, without interruption as in Article 13.06, a record will be kept in her personnel file of her part-time seniority at the time of transfer. Should she subsequently return to a part-time position, she will be credited with the part-time seniority which was previously accumulated, in addition to the full-time hours accumulated while in a full-time position.

13.05 If an employee is assigned to a full-time temporary position and such full-time temporary position is not available, the employee will be considered full-time and will be scheduled or called-in prior to any part-time employees.

13.06 An employee shall accumulate seniority under any of the following conditions:

(a) While she is at work for the Company, after she has completed her probationary period as set out in Article 13.01.

(b) During any period when she is prevented from performing her work for the Company by reason of illness or injury for period of time equal to her pre-existing seniority to a maximum of twenty-four (24) months or as provided under legislation, whichever is greater.

- (c) During any absence due to layoff or written leave of absence for a period of time equal to her pre-existing seniority to a maximum of twelve (12) months or as provided under legislation, whichever is greater.

13.07 Seniority and employment shall terminate when an employee:

- (a) Voluntarily resigns;
- (b) Is discharged and is not reinstated through the Grievance Procedure or Arbitration;
- (c) Has been absent due to a layoff or written leave of absence for a time longer than her preexisting seniority to a maximum of twenty-four (24) months;
- (d) Has been absent due to illness or injury for twenty-four (24) months, or as provided under legislation, whichever is greater);
- (e) Fails to report for work within ten (10) calendar days after being notified by the Company following a lay-off or fails to inform the Company within three (3) working days of recall that she will report for work;
- (f) Fails to return to work promptly upon termination of an authorized leave of absence, or utilizes a leave of absence for purposes other than those for which the leave of absence was granted;
- (g) Has been absent from work more than three (3) consecutive working days without notifying the Company (except for circumstances beyond the employee's control) and providing a reasonable explanation of her absence;
- (h) In the case of a part-time employee, the employee misses, refuses or cannot be contacted to work three (3) "scheduled" or call-in shift assignments, within a one calendar month, without providing a reasonable explanation. Any unreturned calls will be considered non-acceptance of a call-in shift. Returned calls where the available shift has been filled will not be considered a refusal.

For the purpose of this 13.07 (h) a "scheduled" shift shall mean a shift which is scheduled the day before the employee is required to work.

13.08 An employee terminated according to Article 13.07 (d) because of illness or injury may make an application for re-employment. The Company shall give her every consideration for re-employment.

13.09 In the event that an employee covered by this Agreement should be promoted to a supervisory or confidential position beyond the scope of this Agreement, she shall retain the seniority previously acquired and shall accrue seniority during the period she is in such supervisory or confidential capacity, up to a maximum of eighteen (18) months.

Should the employee return to the bargaining unit within eighteen (18) months of her promotion, she shall return to the position she previously held with seniority which could result in displacing an employee who filled the vacancy resulting from the original position.

An employee who has been out of the Union for a period greater than eighteen (18) months in a non-union job will have no bumping rights and will lose all bargaining unit seniority

ARTICLE 14 LAYOFF AND RECALL

In the event a layoff is necessary, the Employer and the Union agree to work jointly to minimize any adverse effects of any layoff to employees.

14.01 (a) Where an individual's own job is not available for eighty (80) hours or less, the Company will assign the individual other work if such work is available. Further, in determining such assignments, it is the Company's practice to attempt to assign the more senior employees the higher rated of the work which is available where this is practical. The application of the above practice is subject always to the following conditions:

- (i) Employees must be fully qualified and capable of performing any work to which they are assigned.
 - (ii) Such reassignments must not result in the displacement of employees in posted jobs. For the purpose of this Article, a Line Associate is not considered a posted job.
 - (iii) In the event such reassignments is not available and results in a layoff from work longer than forty (40) hours, affected employees will be allowed to temporarily displace the most junior employees in the factory, wherever their skill and ability allows them to displace.
- (b) In the event of a layoff that is anticipated to be in excess of eighty (80) hours (not including scheduled weekend shifts that are part of your scheduled work week), affected employees will be allowed to bump posted jobs based on the following factors:
- (i) full-time seniority in the case of a lay-off involving full-time employees, or part-time seniority in the case of a lay-off involving part-time employees;
 - (ii) skill and ability required for the job.

It is understood that where the qualifications referred to in factor (ii) above are relatively equal, factor (i) will govern.

- 14.02 In the event of a layoff in excess of eighty (80) hours (not including scheduled weekend shifts that are part of your scheduled work week), affected employees will be laid off in the reverse order of seniority and the foregoing layoff formula will be applied by groups in the following sequences provided the remaining work force has the skill and ability required to perform the available work:

In the Case of Full-time Employees

- (i) Probationary employees (new hire)
- (ii) Seniority employees

In the Case of Part-time Employees

- (i) Students
- (ii) Probationary employees (new hire)
- (iii) Seniority employees

It is understood that no temporary or casual workers will be utilized in the workplace while any regular employee is on lay-off provided that the regular employees are qualified to do the work in question.

- 14.03 When increasing the work force after a layoff, employees will be recalled in order of seniority provided that the resulting work force has the required skill and ability to perform the available work.
- 14.04 A full-time employee shall acquire the right to bump employees with less plant seniority from other jobs only when her regular job is permanently eliminated. In such event the bumping procedure shall be as follows:

A full-time employee shall be allowed to displace the most junior employee from the full-time employee's classification provided that in the opinion of the Company she has the required skill and ability to do the job. Any resulted displaced employee will subsequently displace the most junior full-time employee in the next classification down until the most junior full-time employee plant wide is displaced, provided that in the opinion of the Company she has the required skill and ability to do the job.

Displacement into a higher classification shall be allowed in accordance with the terms of this article only in circumstances where senior employees would otherwise be laid off outside of seniority.

For the purposes of this article, the term classification shall refer to all jobs in a Group defined under Schedule "A".

With the exception of the full-time employee forced to displaced the most junior full-time employee in the plant, employees electing to bump under this article will not be eligible to post or transfer to a new position for a minimum period of six (6) months, except in cases where their previous position becomes available.

14.05 In the evaluation of skill and ability as referred to in Articles 14.01, 14.02, 14.03, 14.04 and 14.09, the Company shall be the judge, provided however, if an employee believes that proper consideration of her skill and ability has not been given, she may file a grievance under Article 10.

14.06 (a) In the event of a lay-off affecting full-time employees, the employees so affected shall have the option of:

- (i) accepting transfer to part-time status; or
- (ii) being placed on lay-off status

In either case, such employees will be subject to recall to full-time employment as per Article 14.03.

(b) Employees who elect a transfer to part-time status as per Article 14.06 (a) (i) will be employed on a day-to-day basis prior to any remaining part-time employees to perform such scheduled or call-in work as arises prior to their recall to full-time work.

Such work will be allocated to these transferred employees on a rotational basis.

(c) After twenty-four (24) months employees will revert to part-time status and will lose their full-time recall rights.

14.07 The Company shall notify an employee of her recall to work by telephoning the last number on record with the Company. Where the Company is unable to contact the employee by telephone, recall notice will be sent by registered mail to the last address on record with the Company. The employee is solely responsible for their proper address and telephone number being on record with the Company.

The notification shall state the job to which the employee is to be recalled and the date and time at which the employee shall report to work.

It is the sole responsibility of the employee to notify the Company of her intention to return to work within three (3) working days of receiving her notice of recall and return to work within ten (10) calendar days after receiving recall notice.

Employees who fail to return to work within ten (10) days will forfeit their right to recall.

14.08 The Company will advise the Union one week in advance of any layoff which is expected to continue in excess of eighty (80) hours (not including scheduled Saturday and Sunday shifts).

14.09 For the purpose of layoff and recall in excess of eighty (80) hours, the Local Union Executive, Chief Steward and Stewards shall have preferential seniority provided they have the skill and ability required to perform the available work.

14.10 The Company shall give notice of termination according to the Employment Standards Act.

ARTICLE 15 SHIFT ASSIGNMENT

- 15.01 (a) Full-time employees will be permitted to transfer to a preferred shift if entitled by seniority and provided the resulting work force has the skill and ability required to perform the work on each respective shift.

There shall be a shift preference election within four (4) weeks of ratification, to be effective January 1, 2017. Thereafter there shall be two (2) shift elections and start time (where applicable) opportunities in March and September of each year.

In advance of the specified election dates, the Company will canvass full-time employees to determine if any wish to transfer from one shift to another. The shift preference selection process will be performed as per company policy. Employees will be assigned to a shift based on their preference selection and seniority. In the event that no work is available on an employee's assigned shift, such employee will have the option to go to an alternate shift or be placed on the call-in list for their assigned shift in order of seniority. Such choice will be made at the time of the shift preference selection. Should the employee choose to go to an alternate shift, they will remain on such shift for the remainder of the work week. It is understood that junior employees may be scheduled to work the employee's preferred shift during that work week and under these circumstances such scheduling will not be deemed to be breach of the collective agreement.

A full-time employee who posts on to a new job may, once having passed the trial period, have at that time an opportunity to bump a more junior full-time employee in the same job on a preferred shift provided the resulting work force has the skill and ability required to perform the work on each respective shift. If this opportunity is not taken, she must wait for the next shift election opportunity.

- (b) Where it becomes necessary to re-schedule full-time employees working shifts, the Company will attempt to meet its requirements by canvassing employees on a voluntary basis. Where this proves impossible the Company will reschedule employees in the reverse order of their seniority provided that the resulting work force has the skill and ability required to perform the work on each respective shift.

The parties agree that clauses 15.01(a) and 15.01(b) shall not apply in the case of maintenance staff. It is further agreed that the Company will maintain its present practices with respect to shift assignment and re-scheduling for these employees.

- 15.02 Work will be allocated to the part-time work force on a full rotational basis. The order of employees on the scheduling rotation list shall be the same as that on the part-time seniority list. Management reserves the right to use part-time employees out of seniority where they have the physical requirements necessary to perform the available work.

When increasing the part-time work force with new employees, in the interest of proper training, the Company reserves the right to place those employees on to the part-time rotation list out of seniority in a staggered manner for work scheduling only for a maximum of thirty (30) calendar days per employee.

In the event part-time employees hold back-up postings, it is understood that they will be assigned the work as it becomes available versus only being assigned work according to the standard part-time rotation.

- 15.03 Part-time employees will be responsible for checking the posted work schedule for subsequent days prior to leaving the factory after completion of their shift. Where such posted schedule(s) indicates that the employee is scheduled to work on a subsequent day(s) they will be deemed to have been notified of a regular shift assignment.

If a part-time employee will not be working prior to her next shift assignment, she will contact the factory office by 3:00 p.m. to determine if she is scheduled to work the subsequent day.

If the factory office has not been contacted, the employee will be contacted at the last telephone number which the employee has provided. If the factory office is unable to contact the employee at such number, the shift shall be considered a "refusal" for the purposes of Article 13.07 (h).

- 15.04 The Company agrees that on or before Thursday at 1:00 PM of each week, it will post a tentative labour schedule for the subsequent Monday. The parties further recognize that due to the nature of the plant's operations, this production schedule is subject to ongoing modification.
- 15.05 Shift Premium: A shift premium of fifty ($0.50) cents per hour will be paid for any shift commencing at or after 12:00 noon and before 8:00 p.m. A shift premium of seventy ($0.70) cents per hour will be paid for any shift commencing at or after 8:00 p.m. and before or at 4:00 a.m. Effective November 1, 2017, a shift premium of sixty-five ($0.65) cents per hour will be paid for any shift commencing at or after 12:00 noon and before 8:00 p.m. A shift premium of eighty-five ($0.85) cents per hour will be paid for any shift commencing at or after 8:00 p.m. and before or at 4:00 a.m.

ARTICLE 16 JOB POSTING

- 16.01 (a) Vacancies, new positions or temporary full-time assignments shall be posted for a period of seven (7) calendar days. The posting shall stipulate the classification, rate, shift (if required), and department concerned to allow existing employees to apply before new employees are hired.

Employees applying for a vacancy must submit the provided application, to Human Resources within the seven (7) calendar day posting period, failing which, their bid will not be considered. Employees who apply may withdraw their application, in writing, at any time within the posting period without consequence. Prior to going on an approved vacation, employees may complete a request form indicating their interest to be considered for a specific vacancy. The provisions of 16.03 shall be applied to an employee who is awarded the position but declines the job.

Temporary full-time as referred in this section shall not exceed a period of fifty-two (52) weeks; however, this period may be extended due to unforeseen circumstances upon mutual agreement of the parties.

- (b) In the event that job vacancies result from an initial job posting which are anticipated, the Company will post the second job opening resulting from the initial job opening for a period of seven (7) calendar days. In the event that subsequent vacancies occur, criteria for selection shall be seniority, skill and ability on the basis laid out in Article 16.05 (c). In the event such subsequent vacancy is above Group #2 of Schedule "A", a third job opening will be posted.
- (c) If after completing their trial/training period an employee is bumped from their posted job due to lack of work and that job subsequently becomes available within twelve (12) months, they will be given the opportunity to return to their former job. In the event two (2) or more people were displaced from the same job, the most senior employee will have first option to return.

Employees who return to their former job in this manner will be subject to the complete entitlement periods specified in Article 16.02 to be calculated from their date of return to the job.

- 16.02 Employees will not be eligible to bid during their trial/training period or after successfully completing their trial/training period for a minimum period of:
- (i) eight (8) months where the available job is at a wage level above that of the job currently held by the employee;
 - (ii) ten (10) months where the available job is at a wage level equal to or below that of the job currently held by the employee.

- 16.03 Employees shall not be required to reestablish their eligibility under the following conditions;
- (i) Employees return within the fifteen (15) day trial/training period, as provided in 16.08, and the Company agrees she was unable to perform the job;
 - (ii) Employee is removed by the Company as provided in 16.08.

An employee electing to return to her previous position during her trial/training period shall be limited to two (2) postings in a rolling calendar year, after which she will be ineligible to post for one (1) year.

- 16.04 A new job or vacancy shall not be advertised outside the Company for the first seven (7) days following its posting inside.

- 16.05 (a) Jobs deemed to require a minimum base knowledge and skill as a prerequisite will require employee's knowledge to be evaluated. The Union agrees to allow written testing of skills and ability for the following departments:

QA
Technical Development
Departmental Clerks

If the tests for the above jobs should change or for newly created positions the Company will discuss with the Union, the testing required to objectively measure the employee's skill and ability as it relates to the job requirements.

In the event that the Union does not agree to the revised or new testing, the matter shall be subject to Article 10. The Company may fill the position on a temporary basis until the grievance procedure is complete.

- (b) All applications received will be considered within seven (7) working days of the end of the posting procedure. The Company shall fill the posting only after considering the seniority, skill and ability of the applicants. Where the skill and ability of two (2) or more applicants are relatively equal, seniority shall govern.
 - (c) In considering applicants for a full-time job, preference shall go to full-time applicants first before part-time applicants are considered. Part-time applicants to full-time positions will receive first consideration; however, where the company believes the part-time applicant does not possess the required skill and ability necessary to succeed in the role, external applicants will then be reviewed for their suitability for hire into a full-time role. If a part time employee is not given the position he or she will receive a letter outlining why he or she was not given the position.
- 16.06 When a position is filled by means of the job posting procedure, the name of the successful applicant shall be posted.
- 16.07 All job postings shall be removed from the bulletin board immediately at the end of the period for posting as per Article 16.01 (a). The Union shall receive a copy of the posting at the time of the posting and shall also receive a copy of the names of successful applicants.
- 16.08 The Company will provide up to one hundred and sixty (160) hours of training in order for a successful applicant to obtain and demonstrate sufficient skill and ability to perform the work required. An employee who fails to acquire the skill and ability needed to perform the work required after the completion of the training period shall be returned to her former job and rate of pay, as will any other employee in the bargaining unit who was promoted or transferred by reason of such placing. The job will then be given to the next successful applicant.

The first eighty (80) hours of training shall be considered a trial period for all jobs. During this trial period, if the employee feels she is unable to perform the duties of the vacancy to which she posted, the employee will be returned to her former job and rate of pay, as will any other employee in the bargaining unit who was promoted or transferred by reason of such placing.

The successful applicant in the job posting process will be compensated at $2.50 less per hour than the job rate of the employee's previous job rate during the training period referenced above. In cases of employees posting down to a new position, the new position rate will apply during the training period. In the event that the employee removes themselves from the training/trial period, they will not be compensated for the applicable lost wages. If the employee is successful in the training trial period, or is removed by the Company, they will receive the applicable lost wages.

The trial/training period, if mutually agreed, may be shortened and/or extended by the Company and Union.

Notwithstanding the trial/training period, it is understood that the employee will have seniority rights to their newly posted job.

16.09 Nothing shall prevent the Company from filling the vacancy at its discretion during the posting process.

16.10 Where none of the applicants has the required skill and/or ability the Company may hire from outside.

16.11 Temporary Transfers

A temporary transfer for the convenience of the Company is one which is initiated by the Company in employing personnel to meet work priorities or emergencies and could be to a maximum of sixty (60) working days. Temporary transfers need not be posted.

An employee transferred for a temporary period from one job to another for the convenience of the Company shall receive her regular rate of pay or the rate of pay for the temporary job, whichever is greater. Employees will be assigned to temporary transfer position based on skill, ability, and availability. Where the skill, ability and availability of two (2) or more employees is relatively equal, seniority will be the determining factor for temporary transfer.

If the temporary transfer or back-up assignment (as per Article 16.12) is for less than one (1) week, the employee filling the opening will continue to follow the scheduled work for that position for the remainder of the week. If the opening is more than one (1) week, the employee filling the opening will follow the shift preference their seniority allows in the second and subsequent weeks.

The Company's discretion to fill temporary transfer positions shall not be exercised in a manner that is arbitrary, discriminatory or in bad faith and will not be used to avoid creating bona fide full-time jobs.

The Company agrees to advise the Union if it becomes necessary to continue a temporary transfer position for more than sixty (60) days.

16.12 Back-up positions exist to provide trained employees in case incumbents in key jobs are absent or for temporary excess workloads for a maximum of thirty (30) consecutive working days at any one time, except where the back-up assignment results from an absence due to illness, accident, leave of absence or vacation. A back-up position is not a job posting. As such, by being given a back-up position an employee does not give up their regular posting.

Full-time associates will be considered for a back-up position when the back-up position is of a higher group classification. In this instance, a subsequent back-up position would be required to fill the vacated full-time position during absence of the incumbent to their back-up role. This vacancy would be advertised with only part-time associates considered and selected.

Management reserves the right to restrict an employee to one back-up position and when it is foreseen that the employee may not be available for the back-up assignment on a regular basis. Management will consider the most qualified employee first when selecting from a volunteer list. However, where qualifications are relatively equal, the most senior employee will be selected.

The Company's discretion to fill back-up positions shall not be exercised in a manner that is arbitrary, discriminatory or in bad faith and will not be used to avoid creating bona fide full-time jobs.

The Company will give consideration to allowing lateral wage rate back up assignments.

The Company agrees to advise the Union if it becomes necessary to continue a back-up position for more than thirty (30) days.

- 16.13 (a) Team Leaders - The Company will decide when and where Team Leaders will be required for the efficient operation of the factory. When required, the Company will appoint such Team Leaders giving due consideration to required leadership ability, job knowledge and seniority.

All applicants responding to a Team Leader advertisement will be interviewed and reasons for refusal given in writing to any applicant more senior than the applicant chosen.

The job posting provisions of this Agreement shall not apply to the appointment of Team Leaders or the filling of Team Leader vacancies.

- (b) A Team Leader assists in directing the work of employees while continuing to perform her other regular job duties as defined by the Company on an ongoing basis. In the course of her assignment as a Team Leader, she may also be required to perform work regularly done by the employees she leads.

A Team Leader shall not assume any of the employee relations supervisory responsibilities that properly belong to forepersons or other management staff such as reprimanding or disciplining employees. This does not preclude a Team Leader from advising an employee that she is violating a work rule.

- (c) Team Leaders deemed unsuccessful or Team Leaders who desire to relinquish their responsibilities shall be returned to the position that they held prior to the assignment. In the event their seniority will not allow them to return to their previous position the lay-off language will apply.

All Team Leaders will have the option to accept overtime in accordance with Article 17 of the collective agreement at the applicable rate.

ARTICLE 17 HOURS OF WORK AND OVERTIME

- 17.01 The following sections and paragraphs are intended to define the normal hours of work and shall not be construed as a guarantee of hours of work per day or per week, or of days of work per week and shall be in conformity with applicable Employment Standards legislation.

- 17.02 (a) The regular work week for full-time employees shall consist of forty (40) hours and the regular work day shall consist of eight (8) or ten (10) hours where applicable.

- (b) The regular work week shall be Monday through Friday (including shift starting Friday evening) except for those persons who have been hired or agreed to a work week which includes Saturday. Employees working ten (10) hour shifts will normally be scheduled to work four consecutive ten (10) hour work days between Monday to Friday. The Company reserves the right to alter this schedule based on operational requirements.

Notwithstanding the above paragraph of this 17.02 (b) a setup, wet/dry prep, or maintenance shift commencing on or after 2200 hours on a Sunday shall be considered a Monday shift. Shifts commencing at 0300 will be considered day shift for prep operators only.

For set-up of the milk room only, a 10 hour shift commencing at or after 2000 hours on Sunday will be considered a Monday shift.

- 17.03 The Company may require employees to perform overtime work in excess of their regularly assigned hours.

(a) Employees working a four-day work week (10 hour shift) will be paid:

One and one-half ($1 \frac{1}{2}$) times the employee's regular basic hourly rate for:

- (i) all hours worked in excess of ten (10) hours on a normal work day;
- (ii) all hours worked on the fifth (5th) shift of the employee's work week;
- (iii) all hours worked on a Saturday unless it is part of the employee's regular scheduled work week.

Double time (2 x) the employee's regular basic hourly rate for:

- (i) the sixth shift of the employee's work week;
- (ii) all hours worked on a Sunday except as indicated under 17.02 (b);
- (iii) all hours worked on a paid holiday.

(b) Employees working a five-day work week (8 hour shift) will be paid:

One and one-half ($1 \frac{1}{2}$) times the employee's regular basic hourly rate for:

- (i) all hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours on a normal work day;
- (ii) all hours worked on the sixth (6th) shift of the employee's work week;
- (iii) all hours worked on a Saturday unless it is part of the employee's regular scheduled work week.

Double time (2 x) the employee's regular basic hourly rate for:

- i) the seventh shift of the employee's work week;
- ii) all hours worked on a Sunday except as indicated under 17.02 (b);
- iii) all hours worked on a paid holiday.

The above overtime will apply provided the employee works her full assigned work week except where the employee notifies the Company as long in advance as possible and at least prior to the commencement of the shift and provides a reasonable explanation for her absence.

The Company will post scheduled overtime requirements as soon as they are known and will make efforts to post daily overtime requirements as soon as they are known.

- 17.04 To avoid pyramiding or duplication, any overtime hours which are compensated at overtime rates under any provision shall not be counted further for any purpose in determining overtime liability under the same or any other provision.

- 17.05 It is understood that DAILY overtime shall typically be done by the qualified employees who normally perform the work on the shift in respect of which overtime is required. The Company shall give notice of DAILY overtime as far in advance as possible. If the overtime resulted from the absence of an employee, senior volunteers on the shift will be canvassed, including call back of senior qualified employees as required.

It is further agreed that employees may be excused from DAILY overtime if they have a valid reason and if the Company is able to obtain a work force which is qualified to perform the overtime work.

- 17.06 Where there is a requirement for DAILY overtime, the work shall be assigned in the following manner:

- i) The employees who normally perform the work will be canvassed to do the work and the senior volunteers will do the work;
- ii) If (i) above fails to provide the required overtime work the junior full-time employees normally performing the work shall be obliged to do the work;
- iii) Unforeseen overtime may be assigned to the qualified employee on site before being offered to employees who normally perform the work who are off site.

For the purposes of Article 17.06, unforeseen overtime will mean work that becomes available unexpectedly and does not allow the Company sufficient time to implement the normal practice for offering daily overtime in accordance with 17.05.

17.07 Where there is a requirement for WEEKEND overtime, the work shall be assigned in the following manner:

- (i) The employees who normally perform the work will be canvassed (volunteer list) to do the work and the senior volunteers who possess the skill and ability will do the work, as judged by the Company. If there is a requirement for line associate overtime work, this will be offered to all factory associates, as this is not a posted position.
- (ii) In the event that insufficient employees are obtained for overtime in a particular job posting the opportunity for overtime work within a job posting shall be offered to and equalized among employees normally engaged on the work (includes designated back-ups). Employees required to work through overtime equalization will be scheduled according to shift preference, seniority and skill and ability. Overtime shifts worked by such employees shall be recorded for the purpose of equalization on their overtime record.
- (iii) To ensure the health and well-being of all associates, the maximum number of Saturday or Sunday overtime worked will be three (3) consecutive weeks, unless the employee volunteers. In the event of Saturday and Sunday shifts required, the associate can work both days for one (1) consecutive weekend. The parties agree that the overtime equalization will be reviewed on an annual basis to ensure the limits above allow the necessary coverage for the production demands.
- (iv) When an employee is absent from work (W.I., WSIB, L.O.A. and vacation) equalization opportunities will be maintained and charged as though the employee was present.
- (v) When an employee transfers to another job posting, she will be charged with the average number of shifts within that job posting, and his/her opportunity for overtime will be based on this average.
- (vi) Overtime records will be brought up to date and posted weekly in a consistent manner outside the production office and maintenance shop. Overtime following a regular shift or call-in will not form part of the associates overtime equalization totals.
- (vii) Any errors in overtime allocation will be adjusted on the employee record and the next available opportunity will be allocated as per their corrected shift(s). If there is not a subsequent opportunity for overtime within five (5) weeks, the error will be paid out. The purpose of the five (5) week tolerance is to allow for correction of mistakes and is not to allow for intentional overtime by-pass.
- (viii) Overtime equalization does not give an employee the right to double shifts or cause the overtime shift to be split. Employees who indicate they wish to work overtime will be assigned to their posted position and shift. However, when their posted job and shift is unavailable due to a lack of work, they will be assigned to their alternate shift preference by seniority and skill and ability. It is recognized that for the purpose of overtime equalization, employees may be asked to work on any of the shifts; however, where possible, employees who indicate they wish to work overtime, will be assigned to their normal shift.

- (ix) The overtime equalization will start January 1 and end December 31 of each year. At December 31, all employees overtime will be zeroed out.

- 17.08 When an employee reports for work on a regularly scheduled working day and upon her arrival at the plant finds no work is available for her, unless she has been notified at least one (1) hour prior to the start of the shift not to report, she shall be paid four (4) hours for 8-hour shifts and five (5) hours for 10-hour shifts or more at her regular hourly rate. If she is offered other work for which she is physically fit, for four (4) hours for 8-hour shifts and five (5) hours for 10-hour shifts or more at her regular hourly rate, and she refuses such work, she shall not be eligible to receive the reporting pay provided for above.

The provisions of this section shall not apply if the failure of the Company to provide work is due to fire, flood, power or equipment failure, labour dispute, or other interference with Company operations beyond the reasonable control of the Company.

- 17.09 Where an employee's scheduled starting time is changed but the employee is not notified of the change prior to reporting to work, the employee shall be treated as if her shift was to commence at the time she considered she was to report to work.

The Company will post the daily production schedule for the following work day by 1:00 p.m. In the event an employee departs earlier than 1:00 p.m. they shall be responsible to contact the factory to obtain their work schedule for the following day.

- 17.10 Where a line breaks down or line production is completed prior to the end of shift, the senior volunteers from that line shall have the option of going home or remaining at work to perform any work which the Company determines to be available provided they have the skill and ability and also provided that no other employees are displaced from their jobs.

- 17.11 Call-Back - Where an employee is called back to work after having left the premises she will be given a guaranteed minimum pay equal to four (4) hours at time and one-half the straight time hourly rate for such call-back. If the call-back is within four (4) hours of the commencement of her scheduled shift, she will be paid at the rate of time and one-half for all hours prior to the commencement of the shift, provided she works her scheduled shift unless no additional costs would be incurred by leaving the shift early.

- 17.12 Scheduled Overtime - An employee scheduled to check the plant or equipment on a weekend day or holiday shall be guaranteed a minimum of four (4) hours pay at his/her regular hourly rate or overtime at the applicable rate for the hours actually worked, whichever is greater.

- 17.13 Two (2) twenty (20) minute paid breaks shall be given in each 8-hour shift and three (3) twenty (20) minute paid breaks shall be given in each 10-hour shift. Employees shall be ready to commence work promptly at the end of the break. Such breaks shall be in lieu of other coffee or lunch breaks. In case of daily overtime in excess of one (1) hour a ten (10) minute break will be scheduled at the start of the overtime period. If the overtime is anticipated to be in excess of two and one-half (2½) hours, the employee will be granted a twenty (20) minute break period. It is agreed that approved missed breaks shall be paid at straight time and must be authorized in advance by the supervisor on shift.

- 17.14 (a) SCHEDULING FOR STATIONARY ENGINEERS

This article is to vary certain terms of the current Collective Agreement between Nestlé Canada Inc., Trenton Foodservice Facility, hereinafter called the "Company" and Nestlé Trenton Employees' Union – Canadian National Federation of Independent Unions, Local 3022, hereinafter called the "Union". With the exception of specific variations set forth in this Article, all other conditions and terms of the Collective Agreement shall remain in force and effect.

- (b) Purpose

The purpose of this agreement is to enable the Company to operate the power and refrigeration plants on a twelve (12) hour shift schedule and to provide some assurance to crew members of their scheduled days off. This schedule may be discontinued in any area by the Company when:

- (i) there are adverse effects on the service of the plant systems to the factory;
- (ii) inability to provide a workable staffing schedule; or
- (iii) the Company deems that it is necessary for operational reasons which are neither unreasonable or arbitrary.

(c) Schedule and Rotation

Such a schedule shall normally consist of six different positions, with each employee occupying one position for a period of four weeks. Four Operator positions will be scheduled as twelve (12) hour shifts and two Maintenance positions as eight (8) hour shifts. Each employee will rotate equally through all positions on the shift schedule.

(d) Wage Payment

A regular forty (40) hour work week will be paid at the applicable rate of pay for a fully completed week as per the schedule. Any scheduled hours missed which do not qualify for pay as per the Collective Agreement will be deducted from the forty hours each week.

All hours worked over twelve (12) on the Operator's twelve (12) hour shift will be compensated at time plus one half (1 ½) the regular hourly rate.

All hours worked over eight (8) on the Maintenance eight (8) hour shift will be compensated at time plus one half.

Every two weeks any hours worked over eighty (80) in the preceding two weeks which have not already been paid at premium rate will be paid for at time plus one-half (1 ½).

(e) Relief Assignments

The Company reserves the right to alter an employee's normally scheduled assignment at any time to accommodate the relief of absent employees. The employee whose schedule is so altered will be paid according to the conditions laid out for the shift they have been transferred to.

At such times when such a shift transfer causes the employee to work less than the planned eighty (80) hours per two week schedule the employee shall be given the option to make up the difference in hours during the same two week schedule. Such time will be paid at straight time rate, and will be scheduled by mutual agreement of the employee and the supervisor.

(f) Scheduled Holidays

This agreement is not intended to provide any additional pay, or paid time away from work. Therefore, with reference to Article 19.01 of the Collective Agreement, statutory holiday pay will be given to the two Operating Engineers at double time for actual hours worked on a statutory holiday plus either twelve (12) hours statutory holiday pay or one paid twelve (12) hour day off in lieu of statutory holiday pay. Notwithstanding the above, the four (4) floater holidays in 19.01 may be scheduled any time during the year subject to the Chief Engineer's approval and with at least two (2) weeks' notice, and paid based on the employee's regular scheduled shift for the week. Any lieu days for Stationary Engineers that have not been scheduled by April 30th of the following year will be paid out.

(g) Shift Premium

Employees scheduled on the twelve (12) hour shifts will not be paid shift premium in the usual manner. Both the applicable second shift premium and third shift premium ($.65/hr. and $.85/hr.) respectively and subsequent increases as per Article 15.05 will be paid to the employee who works the midnight twelve (12) hour shift. Whereas the Company would normally pay eight hours second shift premium to one employee and eight hours third shift premium to another, an equal amount of money will be paid to one employee.

All increases to shift premium will be effective Nov 1, 2017 (as per Article 15.05).

For example:

$$\begin{array}{rcl} 8 \text{ hr.} \times $.65 & = & $ 5.20 \\ 8 \text{ hr.} \times $.85 & = & $ 6.80 \\ & & $12.00 \end{array}$$

Paid to midnight 12 hr. shift employee per shift.

RE: SHIFT ARRANGEMENTS – MAINTENANCE STAFF

Introduction

The following provisions of this Letter of Understanding are intended to provide for the orderly rotation and assignment of maintenance staff shifts.

Shift Assignment

1. Once a mutually agreed upon shift schedule has been determined as outlined under this letter of agreement any modifications would be made through majority rule voted by entire team.
2. Maintenance shift schedules will be based on either a one week 40 regular hour total or a two week 80 regular hour total period. (i.e. a combination of 80 hours worked in 2 weeks)
3. Maintenance management will establish and post maintenance shift assignment schedule prior to the beginning of each quarter. Otherwise the existing posted schedule rotation will continue.
4. Unless otherwise mutually agreed, maintenance staff would remain in their normal position of rotation within the established maintenance shift assignment schedule or as per Maintenance relief assignment language with overtime as in Overtime #1 below.
5. Where operational requirements dictate, the Company may change an employee's shift assignment outside of the window provided for in #3 above. This may occur as an example from result of illness or injury, vacation, training requirements during the same period or a change in the department.
6. The Company may revert to a conventional standard week schedule during designated shutdown period and Christmas break period.
7. Employees trading shifts must both be in agreement and have the permission of their supervisor in advance, in writing. Seniority will be taken into account if more than one employee is available to accept the shift change.
8. Nothing in this letter shall be interpreted as restricting the Company's right to adjust the number of maintenance staff in a classification or the number that are assigned to a particular shift.

Probationary Employees

1. To aid with training and familiarization, an employee's shift assignment during their trial/probationary period will be at the discretion of management.
2. Upon completion of their probationary/trial period, employees will assume the same position in the shift rotation as that of the employee they replaced. At the discretion of management, additions to the maintenance staff may result in the creation of a new shift rotation/ arrangement.

Overtime

1. Overtime will be paid for all hours outside of the established shift schedule (over 80 scheduled hours in a 2-week rotation week as per on shift assignment #2). All other applicable rates will apply as per Article 17.03.
2. When there is a requirement for weekend maintenance production overtime the person who normally performs the work at the end of the week on the shift in respect of which the overtime is required will be given first opportunity to perform the work. If that individual declines the work, then it will be issued as per Article 17.07.
3. Maintenance work overtime will be offered in accordance with Article 17.06.

Shift Premiums

1. All shift premiums will be paid at an equalized rate to those individuals working a 12-hour shift schedule in accordance with 17.14 (g).
2. All those employees working a standard work week (as defined in Article 17.02) will receive shift premiums as per Article 15.05.

Maintenance Relief Assignments

1. When an employee fills in for a scheduled skilled trade's shift (i.e. illness, bereavement etc.) during mid-week, all applicable wage rates in 17.03 will apply. Employees shall be permitted to complete their regularly established work week.
2. If the employee is covering an employee's regularly established work week (i.e. illness, bereavement, vacation etc.) then they will be required to fulfill the hours of that work schedule. If this assumed shift is less than 40 regular hours then they will be given the opportunity to make up the difference.
3. Selection for relief assignment will be done through canvassing for volunteers by availability and then seniority. If the above does not provide the required coverage, then selection will be done by availability and reverse seniority.

Logbook

1. Each maintenance employee will enter a report in the maintenance shift log at the end of their shift indicating situations and work activities relevant to the next shift.
2. Employees will review the log at the start of their shift.
3. Where a verbal shift end report is required, it will be provided to employees starting their shift by those completing their shift.

Leave of Absence

Vacation

1. Upon returning from vacation, illness, and other forms of authorized leave, employees will resume their respective position in the established schedule rotation.
2. A vacation block is considered to be an individual's regularly established work week.
3. If an employee requests a single vacation day as per Article 18.15 of their scheduled work week, they would be compensated for a day's vacation entitlement. If the employee's week is less than their established week total hours, then they will be given the opportunity to make up the difference at regular time pay.

Personal Paid Holidays

1. PPH days will be scheduled in accordance with 17.14 (f).

2. PPH requests which are submitted after March 15th but prior to September 15th will be handled on a "first come – first serve" basis and employees will be expected to submit their request at least two weeks in advance of their desired PPH date. Any PPH days remaining and not scheduled after September 15th will be assigned by the Company. Operational requirements will be considered in reviewing these requests. As per 18.14 and 3.07.
3. If they are not required to work and have used their PPH days they will not be compensated for those days. They may utilize vacations days if remaining.

Statutory Holidays

1. Employees scheduled to work on a statutory holiday but not required to work will be paid according to their regularly scheduled week. (8 hours, 10 hours, 12 hours)
2. Employees required to work on a statutory holiday will be compensated as per Article 19.02.
3. Statutory holidays not falling on a scheduled shift will be scheduled in accordance with Article 17.14 (f).
4. When the Company designates an alternate holiday day for the factory, such designated day will also be observed by the maintenance team, based on operational requirements. (Example: Canada Day falls on a Saturday and is observed on Monday).

Weekly Indemnity

1. The weekly indemnity-waiting period shall be: 8 hour shift-3days; 10 hour shift-2days; 12 hour shift-2days of lost time.
2. Payments will be made in accordance with Article 24.01 (vi).

Bereavement

Will be paid according to Article 20.08.

Training

1. On-site or local area training if within a reasonable travel time (30min) employees will be required to return to work and complete their scheduled shift. To be confirmed by their supervisor and mutually agreed prior to the course start.
2. All training outside of the local area (beyond 30min) will be paid according to their regularly scheduled shift.
3. All hours during training will be paid according to Article 4.04.

RE: MAINTENANCE STANDBY

As agreed, the following practice will be maintained in the case of maintenance personnel when they are assigned weekend "standby" and scheduled overtime:

1. On the sixth scheduled day of work, the employee will be paid the greater of six (6) times his regular straight time hourly rate or overtime at the applicable rate for the hours actually worked.
2. On the seventh scheduled day of work, the employee will be paid the greater of eight (8) times his regular straight time hourly rate or overtime at the applicable rate for the hours actually worked.
3. For the purpose of clarity, this arrangement recognizes the "standby" obligation of these personnel as well as their scheduled overtime duties. In view of this additional responsibility, Article 17.11 is not directly applicable. Should they be relieved of the standby obligation, then Article 17.12 would become applicable.

RE: APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAM

If the Company institutes an apprenticeship program during the life of the collective agreement the following will apply.

Selection by the Company will not be based on seniority, but on the following criteria:

1. Sufficient academic qualifications;
2. Review of employee's work record and attendance;
3. Successfully pass the necessary tests, by a third party, to determine the aptitude for the considered trade; and
4. Interview results.

The full term of the apprenticeship program shall be four (4) years from the time of being accepted as an apprentice and the rate increases ordinarily granted during this period shall be as outlined.

TIME IN ROLE	COMPENSATION
0-1 year	$2.00 less full rate
1 year	$1.50 less full rate
2 years	$1.00 less full rate
3 years	$0.50 less full rate

At the end of the training period, providing that the apprentice can satisfactorily perform the journey-person's duties in the classification in which she has been trained and successfully receives their ticket, the apprentice will receive the full journeyman's rate. Employees who have achieved a certain number of credits or previous experience shall be paid the wage rate for the period in which such credit advances him. Skilled trades currently holding a certificate will not be eligible unless the maintenance coverage in the plant is sufficient to meet the production demands.

Performance will be reviewed during the apprenticeship program and poor performers will be returned to their previous position, if applicable.

When an employee has successfully completed an apprenticeship, he shall have his seniority recognized in the maintenance department equal to the time in the maintenance department. In the event of a lay-off, when holding a journeyman's ticket, bumping will be completed as per Article 14. In the event of a lay-off during the apprenticeship, the apprentice will revert back to her plant seniority for bumping, outside of the maintenance department.

RE: IMPLEMENTATION OF ALTERNATIVE SHIFT SCHEDULES

Notwithstanding Article 17.02 and 17.03, an alternative shift schedule may be introduced at the discretion of the Company where production requirements require a seven (7) day production schedule for not less than four (4) weeks. The decision will be driven by volume, and capacity to produce the volume in order to maintain a competitive advantage. If introduced, the alternative shift schedule will apply only to employees within the affected area of operation including the necessary support groups. Before the implementation of the alternative shift schedule, the Company will advise the Union three (3) weeks in advance wherever practicable.

A work week shall be between 0001 hours Monday to 2400 hours Sunday. Full-time seniority employees would be scheduled for one hundred and sixty (160) hours of available work over a four (4) week period and consistent with Article 17.01 it cannot be construed as a guarantee. Under the alternative shift schedule work week, Saturday and Sunday will be viewed as normal working days not subject to overtime payment, but an employee will receive time and one-half for the sixth day and double time for the seventh day they work in a work week.

Should the Company determine that it is necessary to implement Alternative Shift Schedules based on operational requirements, the Union will participate in the implementation and formulation of the alternative shift schedules to ensure that the requirements of employees are taken into account as far as is reasonably practicable.

RE: WORKFORCE COMPOSITION

The parties recognize that it is in their common interest to ensure that the Company is guaranteed the work force necessary to meet its operational requirements. It is further agreed that this is best achieved by maintaining the following practices:

1. Protecting the employment security of full-time employees to the extent possible given demand for the Company's products; and
2. Maintaining an adequate supplementary work force of part-time workers to meet fluctuating labour needs which vary daily according to the variety and output of product which is required.

In keeping with the above, it is agreed that the provisions of the collective agreement which provide for the separate lay-off of part-time and full-time employees are not intended to result in an increase of part-time employees at the expense of full-time positions.

For the purpose of this letter "production employees" shall mean employees both full-time and part-time who are directly involved in manufacturing as opposed to service categories such as skilled maintenance, sanitation personnel, or truck drivers.

RE: CHRISTMAS VACATION SCHEDULE (MAINTENANCE)

As a result of a joint effort, the Company and the Union have agreed to trial the following process for the Christmas Break (2007). Following the trial process, both parties agree to review the success of this process by the end of January, 2008 or as otherwise mutually agreed by both parties.

Purpose:

The intent of this letter is to create a process for scheduling Christmas Break which will be tried for the Christmas Break 2007 and to facilitate the creation of a working agreement following the trial period.

Objectives/Goals:

The Company appreciates the employees desire to have a longer notice (than 2 to 3 weeks)on interruption to your planned Christmas break period as agreed upon by Union and management as per article 19.00.

We also must appreciate and respect that we have associates in Quality, EPSU , Warehouse and Production that often are faced with the exact questions and may be interested in a process that fits factory vs. a select group so as we work ahead in the trials we as company will be respective of this in our evaluation.

Process:

The following process will be implemented with respect to scheduling work over the Christmas Break:

- October 2nd and removed 4:00 pm Oct 16th - The Company will post a list by skilled trade employees required to work during the Christmas break and the days of work required. The Company will not post the hours of work until 3 weeks before the Break as we very much plan our supervision hours around all work going on in the factory and this is not normally finalized until this time. So if you volunteer to work during this period you must be flexible in what shift you may be required on, number of people on a shift and the working hours. Normal shifts and hours of work will not apply.
- Employees will volunteer for the available work. If you are away during this time you can submit your request to work by sealed letter to security before this posting.
- The Company will plan the work to be completed based on the number of volunteers submitted during the posting period.
- When scheduling work, the Company will respect the seniority rule for choice of shift providing for sufficient skills and abilities for the required work. Management reserves the right to plan the type of work and the shift on which the work is required.
- The Company will notify employees selected by Oct 30th. Once the employee has been so notified, he/she will be required to work. If you are not able to work after notification, you must find someone with the same skill set (by seniority) to fill your shift. A shift transfer form must be filled out and signed or you will not be allowed time off. Replacement staff must cover all scheduled days for the work assigned.

- If you do not request to work during the break, the Company will consider you not available for work and on a leave of absence. Any remaining Personal Paid Holidays will be utilized for the leave of absence.
- The Company will post the list of names accepted to work by November 6th each year. Once the Company has committed to scheduling you to work, we will make every effort to ensure the scheduled work proceeds. If a task needs to be cancelled because of delivery or some other reasonable circumstance or if production is scheduled, these plans will be re-evaluated on this basis.
- The Company recognizes the need to be mentally and organizationally ready to perform the scheduled work. The Company will make every effort to provide advance notice of the required work being performed. The Team Leaders and Supervisors have this responsibility and employees must communicate with them during this period and solidify the tasks together.

Conclusion:

Nestle Trenton, as a believer in the FM journey, has a strong desire to improve working relations. We trust each of you will take this newly created process in the spirit which it is intended. Primarily, in addressing and resolving the concerns brought forward to the Company.

LETTER OF INFORMATION #3

NESTLÉ CANADA INC.
TRENTON FOODSERVICE PLANT

RE: USE OF CONTRACTORS

Purpose:

The intent of this letter is to clarify the established process to be used to provide guidelines and open communication around the use of contractors in the factory.

Objectives/Goals:

Reinforce that the primary role of skilled trades is to:

- Maintain and repair Nestle Trenton equipment and as a service resource to production for the manufacturing of food products
- Performing preventative maintenance on all equipment
- Performing EM (extraordinary maintenance) projects

Provide a communication process to ensure that maintenance employees are aware of contractor use and identify under which criteria the contractor is being utilized.

Identify Team Leader role in acting as a conduit in dialogue.

Continue to provide access to new technology and career/ skill growth to our highly valued skilled trades group and to maximize the skill level and utilize the workforce to support the core business.

Increase the trust and respect in the Maintenance Organization and lead to ongoing resolution of people and business issues and needs.

The following are situations where contractors will be utilized:

- Turnkey installations of equipment. (Total package purchased contract)
- Warranty work performed on purchased equipment. (Follows warranty restrictions)
- New technology, processes, special skills or equipment required.
- Legal risk/legislated equipment/devices or processes where there is a liability risk to Nestle operations or employees.

Exceptions may apply under the following circumstances:

- Contractor cannot meet the required timelines;
- Nestle exposure to added cost and legal risk to employees
- Customer service level and business risk management

Communication: Contractor Usage:

The weekly maintenance meeting is the most logical forum to discuss upcoming installation, legislative changes (copies of legislation/ JHSC interpretation if required) and other communication around contractors. This is meant to be a two-way dialogue, as there maybe opportunities where employees can reduce costs around contractors apart from the situations noted in the paragraph above.

As these situations arise the company will provide information at this meeting to enable the group to hear, provide feedback and foster open dialogue.

When shutdown meetings/ planning is in progress, Team Leaders will be included in the dialogue and then act as a conduit and a “Go To” person for their respective groups. They, as leaders within the facility, can provide information and reasoning to questions around contractor usage.

Contractor Scheduling:

Contractor work will be scheduled based on:

- The complete project being ready for installation
- When operations allow it
- The impact to operations (e.g. Clean-up)

Once contract work has been scheduled, the Company will seek opportunities to provide work for bargaining unit maintenance employees, but the Company is not obligated to schedule overtime work.

Alternatively, in the event bargaining unit maintenance employees are scheduled for weekend overtime work, the Company will seek opportunities to schedule contract work.

Rationale:

Contractors are not used to stall or “negate” the growth of the maintenance team. Their use enables Nestle to continue to produce products per customer demands with the maintenance team focus on their normal job duties and responsibilities to support the business.

When new technology presents an opportunity for in-house service and maintenance of this new equipment, these will be seen as opportunities to grow skilled trades skills whenever we are not faced with liability, legal requirements, deadlines or cost control that could prevent or limit such opportunities.

As with all Nestle processes, there will be review to ensure applicability and continuous improvement.
